

belts, shoes and laptops

Life in the carbon markets will never be the same after the events of five and six months ago. Things have had to change. We had to create our Safe Harbour. The EC and IETA continue to talk of additional measures that will be required.

But this should come as no surprise. It's going to take effort to restore confidence in the carbon markets again. Think of how things changed after the sad events of 9 / 11. We all now have to take our shoes, belts and jackets off and our laptops out of our cases whenever we travel. We find it a little frustrating – but necessary. Help us restore confidence in the integrity and value of the units in the market.

Call us and verify your units through our Safe Harbour. It is just an upgraded “passport and security” measure...
